

Haematological Malignancy Diagnostic Service (HMDS) Course

King's College London Strand
Campus, London WC2R 2LS

Thursday 7 & Friday 8 January 2027
9 am – 5 pm

This first-in-class course for integrated diagnostic reporting in Haematology Malignancies will provide a hands-on learning approach, in a multi-disciplinary format from experts in HMDS diagnostics.

The course will be in the form of clinical case reviews, encompassing progressive diagnostic testing, interspersed with short lectures about the different disciplines.

Further details and draft programme can be found on our registration page.

CPD points will be awarded to the attendees of this course.

This course is aimed at senior haematology trainees and consultants with a desire to improve diagnostic skills, haematopathologists in training and clinical scientists.

Pre-course reading materials will be offered to all registrants.

£50 off tickets for early bird tickets! Click here to find out more:
Haematological Malignancy Diagnostic Service (HMDS) Course
Tickets, 7 - 8 January 2027 • 8:45 AM-5 PM | Eventbrite

For more information, please email khphaematology@kcl.ac.uk.

Daiichi-Sankyo has offered support for this course, with no influence on the content, agenda, speaker choice or structure of the event.

KING'S HAEMATOLOGY
HEALTH PARTNERS